RIGHTS TEMPLAR OLD CELEBRATIONS

Anniversary Exercises Friday Evening in Music Hall of Temple.

Special Committee Arranges Attractive Program for the Occasion.

Columbia Commandery, No. 2, Knights Templar, will celebrate its forty-fifth anniversary with special ceremonies next Friday evening. A musical and literary entertainment has been arranged and will take place in the music hall of the temple.

The affair will be under the direction of Eminent Commander Charles E. Baldwin and the following committee of knights: Charles P. Sweet, Francis A. Sebring, George Gibson, Walter H. Klopfer, Alexander Grant, John A. Meyer, Sir Charles A. Stewart, Sir Francis Stevenson, Sir Harry C. C. Stiles, Sir Charles B. Matthews, and Sir Frank E. Gibson.

Past Commander Myron M. Parker will deliver the principal address, in addition to which there will be musical and other interesting features, among them a chalk talk by C. K. Berryman, the noted cartoonist. Following this portion of the program refreshments will be provided and the floor cleared for dancing.

Founded in 1863.

Columbia Commandery was founded January 13, 1863, a dispensation having been granted by Most Eminent Grand Master Benjamin B. French to twenty-one knights to form Columbia Commandery, No. 2, its action being ratified by the grand encampment on September 17, 1865, when a charter was granted. Says Eminent Sir A. W. Johnston in writing of Columbia Commandery: "Born in an atmosphere of strife, Columbia Commandery has ever been imbued with an ardent military spirit. In the spirit of Napoleon's celebrated saying, 'There shall be no Alps,' the commandery has planned and carried out many large enterprises in the face of seemingly unsurmountable difficulties. Foremost in every undertaking that enlisted the energies of Christian knightliness, its pluck, ambition, and progressiveness has won for it a commanding position among the Templar bodies of the world. Its record of triumphal pilgrimages is unbroken from St. Louis in 1888 to Saratoga in 1907. At the Saratoga convolve its drill team won second place in competition with the commanderies from all over the United States and the trophy which was captured on this occasion is a magnificent grandfather's clock, the case being of solid mahogany and inlaid with cathedral chimneys which upon regular toll out the hours in the commandery asylum.

Special Escort.

"At Pittsburgh it had the honor of being the special escort of Grand Master Warren LaRue Thomas, and at the Louisville convolve it performed the same duty for its distinguished frater, Grand Commander George Gibson. Two of its past commanders have been chosen as officers of the grand encampment, Sir Myron M. Parker as grand sword bearer in 1908, and Sir Frank H. Thomas as grand captain of the guard in 1909. Many distinguished names are borne on the roster of Columbia Commandery, among whom may be mentioned President James A. Garfield, who was knighted by the commandery in 1885, and whose remains were escorted by his fraters from Washington to Cleveland; Ben. Berley Moore, the eminent journalist, who was the first commander under dispensation; Gen. H. C. Corbin, adjutant general, U. S. A.; and Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, the hero of Santiago Bay."

The membership of the commandery is about 600, and the officers are as follows: E. Sir Charles E. Baldwin, commander; Sir Charles P. Sweet, generalissimo; Sir Francis A. Sebring, captain general; Sir Charles A. Stewart, senior warden; Sir William McAleer, junior warden; Sir James H. McIntosh, p. m.; Sir William E. Andrews, associate prelate; R. E. Sir George Gibson, treasurer; Sir Francis Stevenson, recorder; Sir Frank B. Underwood, sword bearer; Sir Harry C. C. Stiles, warden; Sir Howard Duckett, third guard; Sir William W. Jernome, second guard; Sir E. Richard Gaseh, first guard.

THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY HEARS MISS TOWNSEND

At the public meeting last Sunday of the Capital City Theosophical Society, Pythian Temple, a lecture on "Salvation by Character" was delivered by Miss A. Townsend. The lecturer examined the various theories in which faith, creed, or forgiveness of sins was a governing factor, and contrasted them with salvation by character. The latter, she held, was the true method in view of the Biblical teaching that whatsoever a man soweth that must he also reap. It alone, she argued, satisfied our sense of justice. But as growth of character was a gradual and difficult process, its upbuilding to an exalted level would require more than one life where both sowing and reaping are done; and this led her to accept a series of rebirths for each individual as the mode by which opportunity for progress was afforded to even the slowest and least developed.

RECHABITES JOIN FIGHT FOR PROHIBITION HERE

The Order of Rechabites is a non-political and nonsectarian temperance organization that has been in existence in America since August 2, 1812, being first organized in England, August 25, 1815.

They have persistently refused to affiliate with the Anti-Saloon League, for the reason that that organization engages in politics in the various States, and they claim that the Anti-Saloon League in this city is dependent upon dictation from the National Anti-Saloon League, but this order here with its fifteen local lodges, known as tents, are combining with the Prohibition Crusaders and the Federation of Churches and Temperance Societies, now in course of consolidation.

During the past week John B. Henderson Tent, No. 100; Onward Tent, No. 100; Eagle Tent, No. 2; Union Tent, No. 87, and Eastern Tent, No. 32, selected delegates to these various bodies, and from now on the Rechabites are expected to be in the thick of the fight for prohibition in Washington.
